

Key facts

Client

Institute of Healthcare Management

Membership

7,000+

Business challenge

The client recognised a need to develop an easily scalable Online CPD framework to provide their members with an efficient method to record their Continual Professional Development online.

Solution

Premier's Online Continual Professional Development (CPD) application

Results

Results for this project are due final quarter 2007

Interest areas

- Online CPD

Publication date

April 2007

Premier wins the tender to supply Online CPD

to The Institute of Healthcare Management

Premier implements Content Management and Online CPD systems ensuring efficiency and member services and information on the web for a respected professional members association

Customer overview

The Institute of Healthcare Management (IHM) supports managers whose excellence in management contributes to excellence in healthcare. By promoting the highest standards in healthcare management, the IHM plays a leading role in improving effectiveness in the quality of health services.

Business need

The IHM supports its members and provide opportunities for healthcare managers to grow and learn, both professionally and personally. Members of IHM are required to abide by the Healthcare Management Code which requires managers to keep their skills and competencies up to date.

The Institute of Healthcare Management recognised a requirement for an efficient system for CPD planning and recording. This system would have to be simple whilst always ensuring that members were able to comply with the requirements of the Healthcare Management Code.

Solution

The implementation of Premier's Online CPD system provides a framework that allows individuals to pick, choose and record a variety of activities to fulfil their career and personal development needs.

Premier was chosen to host the application, providing an easily managed and scalable web site structure for the client. By supplying a user friendly CPD system for the Institute of Healthcare Management, Premier allowed them to take complete control of their Online CPD programme without a requirement for technical training or specific technical knowledge.

The client selected Premier's Continual Professional Development (CPD) application as the ideal solution to provide their members a system ensuring that they conform with the requirements set out by the Healthcare Management Code. Integrating the CPD application with Premier's hosted solution provided the IHM with a means to offer their significant membership base a simple online procedure for the completion and recording of all CPD learning.

Results

Results for this project are due final quarter 2007

Learning Solutions
Information Worker Solutions
Data Management Solutions
Networking Infrastructure Solutions

Premier IT Ltd
New Premier House, 150 Southampton Row, London, WC1B 5AL
Telephone: 020 7837 2690

www.premierit.com

WEB REF:005